

What's the Buzz?

with Deez L'Town Beez

Hello friends and fellow keepers!

I Speak Hive!

Want to bring a little buzz to your next group gathering?

Diane recently had the opportunity to share the fascinating world of honey bees with the seniors at the Garvey Center, and she'd love to bring her presentation to your group, too!

Whether you're planning a program for a school, Scout troop, 4-H club, senior center, community group, or other organization, Diane can create a fun and educational experience tailored to your audience.

Her presentations go beyond simply talking about bees. She brings the bees and appropriate hands-on materials so your group can get a closer look at these amazing little creatures and learn about their important role in our world. Depending on your group and interests, topics can include honey bees, beekeeping, the life of a hive, pollination, honey production, hive products, or whatever aspect of the hive your group is curious about. And because no two groups are alike, Diane will tailor her presentation to fit your audience, age group, and interests.

Looking for an engaging program that is educational, interactive, and just a little bit buzzy? Invite Diane to speak to your group!

Ready to book a "hive" of fun? Contact us to learn more about scheduling a presentation for your organization.

Gentle by Nature: Why Simple Ingredients Matter

For those with allergies, sensitive skin, or easily irritated scalps, finding personal care products that work with your body instead of against it can sometimes feel like a challenge. That's one reason Diane's handmade soaps and shampoos/conditioners are such a great choice.

Diane believes that sometimes, less is more. Her products are made with a limited number of thoughtfully selected, natural ingredients without loading them up with unnecessary additives or complicated ingredient lists. She has her own allergies that have been a battle.

Why does that matter? When you have sensitive skin or allergies, the more ingredients a product contains, the more potential there may be for something your skin or scalp simply doesn't like. A simpler formula makes it easier to know what you're using and can be a refreshing alternative to products filled with long lists of unfamiliar ingredients. Diane's soaps are gentle, handcrafted, and designed for people who appreciate knowing what goes into the products they use every day. Her shampoos/conditioners follow the same philosophy, offering a simple, natural approach to hair and scalp care.

Whether you struggle with sensitive skin, have allergies that make shopping for personal care products difficult, or simply prefer products made with fewer, more natural ingredients, Diane's soaps and shampoos are worth exploring.

Simple ingredients. Thoughtful products. Naturally gentle care.

STUFF YOU'RE GOING TO WANT TO KNOW

Charles County Fair

September 17-20th

Entries due Sept 16th

St. Mary's County Fair

September 24-27th

Entries due Sept 23rd

St. Mary's Catalog

Riverfest 2026

Historic St. Mary's City

September 26th, 10am - 3pm

Calvert County Fair

September 30-October 4th

Entries due Sept 28th

Famous Beekeepers & Enthusiasts

- Morgan Freeman – Keeps bees on his Mississippi ranch.
- David Beckham – Keeps bees at his English home.
- Sting – Of course he's a beeker! Keeps bees and supports organic farming.
- Jennifer Garner – Bee enthusiast and pollinator advocate.
- Ellen DeGeneres – Supports bee conservation.
- Thomas Jefferson – Kept bees at Monticello.
- George Washington – Kept bees at Mount Vernon.
- Leo Tolstoy – Kept bees and wrote about rural life.
- Napoleon Bonaparte – Made the bee a symbol of his empire.

LIKE OUR NEWSLETTER?
SHARE WITH YOUR FRIENDS!

Follow us @deezltownbeez.com

Happy Keeping!